Join the revolution

2010 is the first year of the “green revolution” in the Chinese auto industry. Promote and develop new energy vehicle has become a national consensus. As more tax rebate and supporting policy emerge, more capital and related product enter this fast expanding market.

At this historic junction, d1ev.com would like to invite you to join representatives from MOST, NDRC, MIIT, MofCom, local government official, research agencies, companies, investor and the media to attend our 2010 Annual Meeting of Chinese new energy vehicle development.

We would like to invite you to participate in active dialogues with the government, official and other industry leaders to seek new venture opportunities and discuss policy interpretation.

Join us! Join the Join the revolution!
